DETAILED ACTION

1. This action is responsive to communications: amendment filed 09/05/2006 to application filed 12/03/2003.

Claims 1-41 are pending in this application. Claims 39-41 have been added.

Claims 1, 13, 17, 25, 36, and 39 are independent claims.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-12 and 25-35, drawing to processing a PDF document to producing a PPML document, classified in class 715, subclass 513;
 - II. Claims 13-16, drawing to creating and using a PPML document, classified in class 715, subclass 526;
 - III. Claims 17-24, drawing to selecting objects within a PDF document for designation as variable objects with PPML document, class 715, subclass 762;
 - IV. Claims 36-38, drawing to processing a PDF document for transmission to a printer, classified in class 358, subclass 1.1; and
 - V. Claims 39-41, drawing to translating a PPML document back to PDF document, classified in class 715, subclass 523.

The inventions are distinct, each from each other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I, II, III, IV, and V are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention I has separate utility such as saving a PPML document resulting from the PDF document under the name with extension; invention II has separate utility such as importing the macros from external files to governs operation of the variable objects; invention III has separate utility such as adjusting the properties of image scale and image cropping in the user interface; invention IV has separate utility such as printing a PPML document using a digital press; and invention V has separate utility such as generating a PDF document tree on which elements of a PPML document will be directly translated into PDF objects. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

3. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the response to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 2176

4. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
